NEWS

Big News from the PAQ Athlete Committee!

The Underwater Chats: Power Up Exclusive Sessions just kicked off this month, bringing game-changing conversations to our aquatic community! The Blue Seals Swim Team (Jamaica) was the first to dive in, engaging in powerful discussions on safe sport, mental health, and social media. In an open and supportive space, athletes, parents, and coaches bravely shared the challenges they face as a team. Together, we embraced a growth mindset, fostering discussions on team cohesion, kindness, and support. Key topics included balancing life, athletics, and academics, improving access to the pool, and finding ways to better support athletes. To boost motivation, the team introduced Fun Fridays and other reward systems to encourage attendance and engagement. Most importantly, there was a strong team commitment to creating a safe and supportive environment for all—focusing on what it means to be a great teammate and leader every day. This session was all about collaboration, solutions, and building a stronger, more connected aquatic community!

These dynamic, athlete-focused sessions create a safe, supportive space for athletes, parents, coaches, and NF reps to tackle key challenges together with the PAQ Athlete Committee. Want your club or federation to be next? Reach out to  athletes@panamaquatics.com and stay tuned for more updates!

“On behalf of the Blue Seals Swim Club, I would like to extend our heartfelt gratitude to you and the entire PanAm Aquatics Athletes Committee for the exceptional informational session on Saturday. The involvement of so many committee members, as well as the engaging interactivity between parents, coaches, and athletes showed your commitment” ~ David Bromfield

E-Coach 2.0 - Part 1

One of the advantages of the E-Coach 2.0 software is its ability to match the workload in each energy zone to the swimmer's current condition. The program evaluates the swimmer's age, gender, performance and some other parameters and designs the optimal seasonal training plan to ensure optimal improvements during the season.

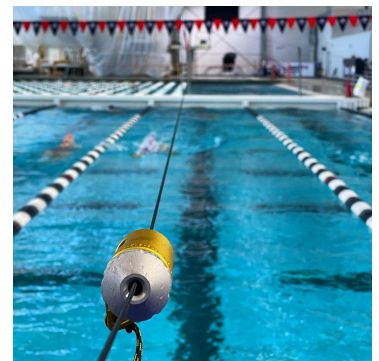

Our studies show that the rate of adaptation is different for females and males, for younger and older swimmers, for elite level and sub-elite level swimmers, for sprinters and distance swimmers. For example, younger athletes adapt faster than older athletes. That's why the E-Coach 2.0 software matches the weekly workload volume progression in a season based on the rate of adaptation: workload volumes in different energy zones increase at a faster rate for younger athletes. The rate of adaptation also depends on many other parameters, which are included in the E-Coach 2.0 software. Training plans designed by the E-Coach 2.0 are based on the individual or group rate of adaptation. The E-Coach is the only scientifically based training design software. More than 40 years of research are included in the software algorithms. No other software in the world is more accurate than the E-Coach 2.0.

Here is the link to Dr. G's presentation on the scientific background of the seasonal training design - E-Coach 2.0 part 1

<https://www.dropbox.com/scl/fi/k07bw3ldrer0off1cizc0/E-Coach-software-Part-1.mp4?rlkey=plfazk9xpz09e1hmafucpochl&st=2fbyxgfy&dl=0>
